OFFICE OF THE COLLECTOR OF CENTRAL EXCISE, BARODA

Baroda, the 9th September 1957

S.R.O. 2973.—In exercise of the powers conferred on me by Rule 233 of the Central Excise Rules, 1944, it is ordered that the following procedure should be followed in respect of clearances of tobacco under Tariff classification 9(I)7 in the First Schedule to Central Excises and Salt Act, 1944, for agricultural purposes or destruction from warehouses, curer's Bonded store-rooms and curing yards:

1. All such clearances must be effected under the statutory documents namely, the D.D.I. or the A.R.I. in triplicate. The former will cover clearances from curing yards and curer's store-rooms, and the latter from warehouses. Where the clearance entails removal from one place to another, not adjoining, or unless the tobacco has been rendered unfit, for human consumption or manufacture before its removal from the licensed storage premises, a transport permit in form T.P.I. shall be obtained from the proper officer.

2. Ordinarily the tobacco sought to be cleared for agricultural purposes, should, before removal from the place of storage, be rendered unfit for human consumption or manufacture in the presence of the supervising officer. For this purpose it should be completely drenched with a solution containing not less than one maund of cow-dung and one maund of water for every ten maunds of tobacco. The tobacco should be tied loosely in bundles of 10 seers or less in weight and such bundles should be dipped one by one and kept soaked in the solution for at least 2 hours, or the entire consignment should be drenched with the solution by frequently turning the tobacco when the denaturant is being added.

Where, however, it is not possible to transport the denatured product to fields which may be far away, the denaturing operation may be conducted, after the tobacco has been removed from the licensed premises, at a convenient place, in the presence of the supervising officer.

Where again it is not possible to obtain cow-dung in sufficient quantities, the following alternative methods should be resorted to:

- (a) All grades of dust (Tobacco dust or stemdust) fine Kandi and Rava may be spread thinly over a field and ploughed in so as to render gleanings of the said dust, Kandi or Rava impracticable.
- (b) The tobacco of leaf, Chura, and stem grades may be put into a manure pit or otherwise specially prepared pit together with one tenth of its weight of earth or mud thoroughly inter-mixed, to which will also be added. Sufficient quantities of water thoroughly soaking and mixing the mass. Finally the pit or mass will be covered up with loose earth.
- (c) Stalks of tobacco brought to account could either be burnt or destroyed in the manner in (b) above after pounding them into broken bits.
- (d) Where however, sufficiently large muddy swamps or ponds are available for use, the tobacco of all kinds could be thrown into them and effectively mixed with silt and mud.

3. The tobacco sought to be destroyed as distinct from use for agricultural purposes, could be (a) burnt either by itself or by the aid of some fuel or other combustible matter, (b) dumped in the sea or a river or (c) mixed with silt in muddy swamps.

4. All tobacco must be destroyed or rendered unfit for human consumption or manufacture so as to be used for agricultural purposes, under the supervision of a proper Central excise officer. AWARD

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Travancore Mineral Concern No. 1 and their workmen was originally referred for adjudication to Shri K. N. Kunjukrishna Pillai, Industrial Tribunal, Trivandrum by the Government Order S.R.O. 1968 dated 6th September, 1955, in regard to certain matters specified in the Schedule annexed to the said Order. This was registered as Industrial Dispute No. 171 of 1955 by the said Industrial Tribunal and Shri K. N. Kunjukrishna Pillai in his capacity as sole Member thereof had already recorded evidence and heard the arguments of the parties. Before however, he could submit his Award, his services ceased to be available and the same industrial dispute between the parties has therefore been referred to me for adjudication by the Government Order dated 5th June, 1957. The reference has since been re-numbered as (CGIT) No. 4 of 1957 and the dispute involved in the same relates to the following questions:—

- (1) Is the Travancore Mineral Workers' Union justified in demanding that the 128 workers recruited for work in June 1955 should be discharged? Is the General Manager of the Travancore Mineral Concern No. 1 bound to discharge them as demanded by the said Union.
- (2) Is the decision to recruit workers through the Employment Exchange wrong? Is the Union within its rights in objecting to this procedure.
- (3) Are there past workers of the concern entitled to preference when workers are to be recruited? If so, is a list of such workers available? If not, is it possible to prepare the list of such workers according to length of service with reasonable accuracy.

2. The workmen concerned in the present reference are represented by the four Unions, viz (1) Travancore Mineral Workers' Union, Chavara, (2) Minerals Mechanical and Electrical Workers, Union, Chavara, (3) Travancore Cochin Mineral Workers Congress, Chavara and (4) Mineral Companies' Staff Association, Chavara. Those appearing respectively for the management and the workers represented by the said Unions have agreed to adopt all the proceedings conducted so far in the time of the preceding Industrial Tribunal and they have filed a joint statement to that effect when the matter came up for hearing before me on 8th August, 1957, at Trivandrum. It appears that the Travancore Mineral Concern No. 1, Chavara was started in the year 1933 and it has been nationalised in June 1949. On behalf of the labour it was conceded before me not to reopen the cases of those retrenched prior to 1946 and for the purpose of deciding this dispute, we are to proceed on the basis of those on the muster roll of the concern in the bonus years 1946 and 1947. The Labour's representatives urged that under an agreement dated 22nd December, 1947, the workers were not to be discharged except for reasons beyond control and the old workers were to be given preference before engaging fresh recruits. The total number of workmen in the year 1946 was approximately about 500 and I was told that in December 1947 there remained only 162 workmen in employment, the others having been discharged during the intervening period. At present all the said 162 workmen are still in employment and what has been urged before me is that out of those discharged in the said intervening period, 128 workmen should be given preference in the order of seniority, inasmuch as 128 new workers have been employed in the concern by a recruitment which took place on 1st June, 1955. On behalf of the concern it has been contended that there were no such retrenched people as would be entitled to preference when the said recruitment was made on 1st June, 1955.

3. Looking to the demands as framed, it is obvious that the only substantial dispute existing between the parties is in regard to the preference of the old workers, if any, when the said 128 workers were recruited on 1st June, 1955. In making such a claim, it is not upto the workmen concerned to insist on the discharge of the 128 workers already engaged or to question the course or method which the employer should follow in recruiting the required number of workers, provided of course their claims to priority if any is not overlooked at the time. The correct position was appreciated by the workers' representatives and after some discussion good counsels prevailed on both the sides to arrive at an amicable settlement in the circumstances of the case. They have accordingly filed a joint statement dated 12th August, 1957 whereby the various points raised by either side are not pressed and an award has been prayed for in terms of the settlement. It is really creditable to the parties to have resolved this long-standing dispute in an amicable manner. I thus make my award in terms of the settlement between the parties as per their joint statement annexed hereto.

P. D. Vyas,

Dated 22nd August 1957,

Central Government Industrial Tribunal,
Nagpur, at Bombay.

ANNEXURE

BEFORE THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, NAGPUR.

(Camp: Trivandrum)

I. D. No. 4/1957

Joint statement put in by all the parties to the dispute

In regard to future vacancies the Management would give one week's notice to all Unions recognised by the Management and would give preference to ex-employees as far as available. Each Union may supply a list containing double the number of recruits needed with addresses and token numbers of the ex-employees. Then the Management would issue notices to all the addressees given in the list supplied by the Union calling upon them to appear for selection. Only if sufficient number of suitable ex-employees, whose antecedents are not undesirable, are not available for recruitment, would the Management turn to fresh hands. If there is conflict between the lists supplied by the Unions the final choice will rest with the Management.

The Management and the Unions who are parties to this dispute agree that the various points raised by either side are not pressed and pray for an Award in terms of the above settlement with no order as to costs.

S.R.O. 3000.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Industrial Tribunal, Nagpur in the industrial dispute between the employers in relation to Hopkin and Williams (Trav.) Limited, Chevара and the Mineral Companies Staff Association.

BEFORE SHRI P. D. VYAS, CENTRAL GOVERNMENT INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, NAGPUR

(Sitting at Trivandrum)

REFERENCE (CGIT) No. 7 of 1957

Adjudication between:

Messrs. Hopkin & Williams (Trav.) Ltd., Chavara.

And

The Mineral Companies Staff Association.

In the matter of attendance bonus, production bonus, etc.

APPEARANCES

For the Management: Shri V. K. K. Menon, Hon'y Law Officer, Travancore Chamber of Commerce

For the Workmen: Shri T. K. Divakaran, President, Mineral Companies Staff Association, Chavara.

AWARD

On the joint application dated 14th July 1954 of Messrs. Hopkin & Williams (Trav.) Ltd., Chavara and the Mineral Companies Staff Association as representing a majority of workmen, the Central Government referred an industrial dispute for adjudication to the Industrial Tribunal, Trivandrum under Order No. L.R. 2(77)54(S.R.O. 3383), dated 23rd October, 1954. The dispute related to the following matters set forth in the parties' joint application and reproduced in the Schedule annexed to the said Order:—

- (1) Whether the claim for attendance bonus to be extended to all categories of employees is reasonable?
- (2) Whether the existing production bonus paid to production categories of employees is low and whether such bonus should be extended to all other categories?
- (3) Whether the claim of the extension of the existing Provident Fund to all the monthly paid employees is obligatory on the Management?
- (4) Whether the claim for enhancement of annual bonus from 25% of Basic Pay to 25% of total earnings is justifiable?
- (5) Whether the claim for shipping bonus is legal?

2. Shri K. M. Kunjukrishna Pillai as the sole Member of the Industrial Tribunal, Trivandrum gave his Award dated 20th December 1955 in respect of the above matters. Again this award the employers filed an appeal being appeal No. Madr. 26 of 1956 in the Labour Appellate Tribunal and the said appeal was directed against the award in so far as it related to the following two demands, namely, (1) "Whether the existing production bonus paid to production categories of employees is low and whether such bonus should be extended to all other categories; and (2) whether the claim for enhancement for annual bonus from 25% of basic pay to 25% of total earnings is justifiable?" This appeal was heard and decided by a Bench of the Labour Appellate Tribunal and under its decision dated 20th March 1956, the award has been set aside in so far as the first part of the original demand No. 2 is concerned, namely, whether the existing production bonus paid to production categories of employees is low, and there has been a remand order whereby the Tribunal below has been directed to hold a fresh enquiry in respect of the same. Thereafter a fresh Notification dated 19th December 1956, S.R.O. 3165 was published by the Government of India, whereby Shri K. N. Kunjukrishna Pillai, as a single Member of the Industrial Tribunal, Trivandrum was authorised inter alia to take up the remanded case of the industrial dispute between the present parties, viz., Messrs. Hopkin & Williams (Trav.) Ltd., Chavara and the Mineral Companies Staff Association.

3. When the dispute covered under the remand over of the Labour Appellate Tribunal came up for enquiry before Shri K. N. Kunjukrishna Pillai, a preliminary objection was raised on behalf of the employers that the Appellate Tribunal had no jurisdiction to remand the case and that there was no duly authorised Industrial Tribunal which could carry out the remand order. On this preliminary objection the parties were heard by Shri K. N. Kunjukrishna Pillai and setting aside this preliminary objection by his Order dated 24th January, 1957, he decided to proceed further with the enquiry. In the meantime, the services of Shri K. N. Kunjukrishna Pillai having ceased to be available, the same dispute between the parties has been referred to me for adjudication by the Government Order L.R.II/57-I(27)/57 dated 5th June, 1957.

4. The only question now remaining to be decided under the remand order of the Labour Appellate Tribunal is as to whether the existing production bonus paid to the production categories of employees is low. The parties have raised no other point before me nor have they adduced any further evidence and I have heard the arguments advanced on their behalf.

5. It appears that the concern was started in the year 1941 and the system of production bonus was introduced in the year 1946. The rates governing the production bonus then prescribed continued upto 1952 when the said rates were revised and enhanced to some extent. These revised rates are still in force and the same according to the written statement dated 16th July 1957 now filed by the Management are:—

	Rs. A. P.
120-129 tons	0	9
130 tons	0	2
131-135 tons	0	3
136-140 tons	0	4
141-145 tons	0	5
146-150 tons	0	6
151-155 tons	0	7
156-160 tons	0	8
161-165 tons	0	9
166-170 tons	0	10
171-175 tons	0	11
176-180 tons	0	12
181-185 tons	0	13

And for every additional 5 tons one anna more.

In the earlier written statement filed by the Management the rates were shown as follows and the same have been reproduced in the award of the preceding Industrial Tribunal:—

Tons :

120-129	9 ps. per head.
130	2 as per head.
131-135	3 as per head.
136-140	5 as per head.

And for every 5 tons one anna more and the maximum is fixed for 185 tons.

Looking to the written statement now filed before me, I should take it that there is no such maximum fixed and even after 185 tons, the workers are entitled to one anna more for every additional 5 tons. The main dispute between the parties centres round the question as to whether the existing rates are low and should be enhanced to what extent, if any.

6. The charter of demands submitted by the Staff Association on behalf of the concerned workers is dated 22nd December, 1952 and there the demand for the production bonus stands thus:— "The rate of production bonus paid in your establishment at present is very low. Hence I demand that production bonus should be paid to one and all concerned at the rate of one anna per ton for every ton over and above 120 tons produced during a shift." It has not there been made clear as to why the existing rates should be considered very low and even in the workers' written statement filed on 18th January, 1955 after the Reference, there has been no further elucidation on the subject and the demand in the same vague terms has been reiterated. It is there alleged "the rate of production bonus now being paid by the Company is very low and that even paid to a section of employees only. Hence we demand that rate of production bonus should be raised and be extended to all employees who are engaged in the work incidental to or connected with the production of mineral." The management in its reply statement contended that considering the high rate of remuneration already paid to all classes of employees, there was absolutely no "basis" to make the claim for enhancing production bonus. In case the existing rates were considered to be low or inadequate, the bonus lay on the workers to make out a case for enhancement by establishing the relevant factors but no such material was furnished and the preceding Industrial Tribunal made the award in favour of the workmen by following the rates in another concern on the following grounds:—

"The Association would demand that the rate is low but the Company would contend that it is very high. In this connection, Mr. T. K. Divakaran submitted that the rate prevalent in the sister concern in the same locality namely, Travancore Mineral Concern could be accepted. In the absence of evidence to substantiate Company's contentions, I must say that Mr. T. K. Divakaran is very reasonable in the demand and I hold that the rate now in vogue in T.M.C. should be the rate in the Company. The rates prevalent in T.M.C. are:—

Production per shift	Rate of bonus per head
From 110 to 115 tons	2 as.
From 116 to 120 tons	3 as.
From 121 to 125 tons	4 as.
From 126 to 130 tons	5 as.

I hold accordingly."

This method of dealing with the point in issue was not approved by the Labour Appellate Tribunal on appeal with the result that there has been a remand order for fresh enquiry. Before the Appellate Tribunal it was urged on behalf of the employers that it was wrong on the part of the then Industrial Tribunal to adopt the rates of production bonus in the other concern without giving them an opportunity to make their submissions on the same and that the conditions in which the factories of the two concerns work are entirely different.

7. It has to be borne in mind that production bonus is a sort of incentive bonus, the enforceability of which rests on the existence of a practice consistently followed for a fairly long period in a particular concern so as to ripen into a customary privilege or usage creating an expectation in the workers' minds that the payment has become part of their emoluments—c.f. 1951 II L.L.J. P. 25 (Shrinagar Mills' case). The nature as well as the rates of such payment depend on the circumstances prevailing in the particular concern itself and if there is to be any revision it ought to be on the line that there has been a change in those circumstances so as to adversely affect the workers' wages; say for instance, the production has gone down owing to reasons for which they are not to blame or that they are called upon to exert greater strain than before in giving the same production. It is true that the employers in the present case have installed new machinery in the factory in the year 1954, but I was told that the plant has been so completely mechanised as to require little handling of products by factory workers and notwithstanding that since the amenity of production bonus was once granted, it continued to be paid even after mechanisation. The Travancore Mineral Concern is a Government concern and we do not know under what circumstances the rates of production bonus were there fixed or what are the usual wages or emoluments earned by the workers there employed. It has been urged before me that the production in the instant concern is higher than in the other concern and in the absence of cogent material as to what is the average production bonus together with the normal wages earned in the two concerns, it would be improper to blindly introduce the rates prevailing in the other concern.

8 In my opinion, the workers' Association has failed to make out a case for the enhancement of the existing rates and I find myself unable to give any further relief beyond a slight change in the existing structure of the rates of production bonus so as to place it on a more rational basis. The above-mentioned table of existing rates indicates that from 131 tons onwards there is a rise of one anna for every 5 tons, whereas under the minimum of 120 to 129 tons there is a rate of 9 ps. which is raised to 2 annas for 130 tons. It would be more in keeping with the existing structure if for the minimum 120 to 130 tons, uniform rate of 2 annas is prescribed, and then a rise of one anna as at present is given for every additional 5 tons. I direct accordingly. Thus 2 annas shall be the rate for 120 to 130 tons and beyond that the existing rates shall remain undisturbed. The new rate so prescribed for 120 to 130 tons shall be given effect to from 1st January, 1958.
